

Shane Simon, winner of 2017 Grace Miller Award

Matthew Huish
September 2, 2017

Despite caring for his parents the nominee managed to find the time to complete a college course in media studies, is always involved in youth activities in the Wales region and has been attending the Council of Community meetings for the last two occasions.

He is full of willingness and despite his limitations of time was always ready to volunteer and despite all this challenge he is never heard complaining.

Click here to Download the Grace-Miller-Award-Winner-2017.PDF

GRACE MILLER AWARD 2017

Shane Simon

Grace Miller Award 2017 Shane Simon

Shane Simon

Grace Miller Award 2017 Shane Simon

- Humble and serving, bright and enthusiastic, willing and helpful, has many good ideas and insights into 2nd gen's situations, and is able to express these well.

Grace Miller Award 2017 Shane Simon

- Humble, big hearted, very serving and caring.

Grace Miller Award 2017 Shane Simon

- In what ways has the nominee demonstrated devotion to God & True Parents?

Grace Miller Award 2017 Shane Simon

- Looking after his sick and elderly parents all his life, and still continuing to do so. Showing a filial heart of piety towards God and True Parents, and keeping an unwavering commitment of faith.

Grace Miller Award 2017 Shane Simon

- Consistent in his life of faith. Dedicated to serving his parents - his father died a short while ago. His father was severely disabled and the nominee was his official carer. His mother is also disabled and mostly confined to a wheelchair following the amputation of one leg.

Grace Miller Award 2017 Shane Simon

- Despite caring for his parents the nominee managed to find the time to complete a college course in media studies, is always involved in youth activities in the Wales region and has been attending the previous two Council of Communities meetings.

Grace Miller Award 2017 Shane Simon

- He is full of willingness and despite his limitations of time was always ready to volunteer and despite all this challenge he is never heard complaining..