Our motto for the Easter Workshop is BeLoved. In this day and age we seem to spend so much of our lives worrying what others think of us, and can often base our decisions on others' perceptions of us. As a committee we agreed that in order to be free in ourselves we need to have a confidence that comes from within ourselves. It comes when we accept our fundamental identity: each of us is God's beloved son or daughter.

Beloved means that we are unconditionally loved by God, our Heavenly Parent. God doesn't see us as "good" or "bad": God loves us all the same, with the wish that we realise our potential. It is our fundamental identity.

Be loved is the choice we must make to open our hearts to receiving God's love for us. God's love is always there, but it is always our choice to receive it and be loved by God.

Be love is when we give love to others. In order to give God's love to others, we must come to resemble Him, by practising sincerity and integrity. This allows us to be free in loving others.

"All things in Heaven and on earth resemble God. All the things of creation symbolise God, whereas human beings are made in the image of God. God is the reality. Based on this reality, human beings should resemble Him in image while all things of creation should resemble Him in symbol. Since God is the Creator of all things, that is how it should be. Based on His law, God is omniscient, omnipotent and omnipresent, and exists in eternal love." CSG (26-167, 1969.10.25)
