Observations of the Biden-Moon Summit

TUESDAY, May 25 from 2-3 pm EDT
(New York time)

Hello ,

Two experienced Asia hands discuss what was said (and what was not said) in the first White House meeting between President Biden and South Korea President Moon Jae-in. National Security experts Bill Gertz and Guy Taylor will discuss strategies for reviving the nuclear talks with the DPRK, whose leader Kim Jong-un has let it be known he is not a fan of either president and has no intention of stepping back from his nuclear program. The current state of the threat posed by North Korea will also be assessed.
