Background of Parents' Day

In 1994, a resolution unanimously adopted by the U.S. Congress establishing the fourth Sunday of every July as Parents' Day, a perennial day of commemoration similar to Mother's Day and Father's Day was signed into law as a new national holiday. According to the Congressional Resolution, Parents' Day is established for "recognizing, uplifting, and supporting the role of parents in the rearing of children."

The establishment of Parents' Day was the result of efforts by a bipartisan, multiracial, and interfaith coalition of religious, civic and elected leaders who recognized the need to promote responsible parenting in our society and to uplift ideal parental role models, especially for our nation's children.

Since the creation of this annual day of commemoration, local churches, elected officials and activists throughout the nation have creatively launched many activities around the theme of Parents' Day designed to celebrate and strengthen the traditional, two-parent family as well as honor single parents.

The Universal Peace Federation-USA, founded by Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon and Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon, sees Parents' Day as both a special day to honor and appreciate parents and also as a day for parents to honor and appreciate their children, for by having and raising children, parents became parents. Furthermore, Parents' Day is an opportunity for parents together with their children to rededicate themselves to realizing the God-centered family ideal of manifesting the highest standard of unconditional true love within the family and expressing that love outward to the larger community and world.
