Summary

86th day of incarceration, now is the time for the final harvest, the time to separate the true from the false. Through trials and pains our true faith becomes certified and the more we are beaten the greater we grow. Because we are true, the true God and the absolute good spirit help us. Leaders who have ever participated in our events will be divided. At this time Holy Mother Han is struggling, how she talked and interfered, will be the material to be judged in years to come. And more demanding times than any other. In times like these, we must strengthen our faith knowing that this is the golden age of providence when we pray, the answer will be answered sooner and the power of heaven will be given more. There is a phenomenon of dormant eating restores faith and evangelism. May we move forward with strength knowing that Heaven longs for the true person in times like this.

After completing spirituality training, he realized that he needed to practice parenthood when his parents were alive, so he decided to serve for 8 months, and participated in the Shinchu South American Spirituality Training in Paraguay to evangelize three people. A proof that the heart of Heavenly Parents who lost their children received the grace of evangelism. There was also a proof of victory in evangelism that after returning home from serving for 8 months in Paraguay, he received 8 applications for admission and 10 applicants for evangelism. Through the testimony of two people, they teach that if you evangelize with passion in any environment, feeling the spirit of your father and mother, you will be surprised.

The diligence of the beautiful young people awakened the dormant two generations, turning the unification church that was ashamed into a proud voice and witness in front of the station. Spiritual practice is truly a gift from heaven. When I see an atmosphere of young adults gathering together, lifting their voices and praises, I believe that in the future the kingdom of our fathers will be established.

When young people become teachers and do resonance reading, and their father raises his voice so loudly that he runs out of voices at the world convention, every cell of the body resonates, and even the spiritual cells resonate and elevates to a new dimension. When you penetrate your feelings and read the resonant reading and then pray, a surprising role occurs when your spirit increases and you can enter into a blessing that cannot be expressed in words.

Spiritual Shrine students are banging on the floor with tears and praying for the monk. What was I doing when my mother was alive? The time will come when all the leaders of the nations will repent, beating the ground and passing millennia, wondering if they could not help their parents at all. Fortunately, we are able to know and see our parents directly. Once our degree of elaboration is full, Heavenly Father, the only daughter True Mother will move and serve in the spirit world. Therefore, it is said to pray to move the spirit world with all sincerity. Foreign leaders like Hatebeh prophet are also coming and raising their voices. The spirit world also comes along and speaks up and acts. We must also lift our voices in prayer and devote ourselves together.

"People who never experience it will fall." The apostle Paul's experience of the spirit realm was what motivated him to do missionary work for 13 years straight. Such an experience must be had. The teacher is exactly the same. Teachers have standards they wish for. There is a straight root that says do it this way. As long as this belief is unbreakable and in the falling apart I will keep pushing forward no matter what trials and turmoils come my way. 。 You have to have faith and keep pushing forward with all your heart. "No matter what I hear, I will not lose my faith", if you have that posture, you can go to the spirit world and push through the dark authorities and come down to earth and serve your descendants. Even though all the disciples fell apart, Jesus raised a standard that would not fall apart and resurrected three days later. If the seniors who went to the spirit world were truly one with their parents, they'd become officials from the spirit world. If the standard is insufficient, you should raise the standard even by writing a letter of sympathy.

"The 21st century is the age of spirit and spirit, the age of spirituality, so keep faith and keep pushing forward your time will surely come." The 21st century is clearly an era where people live together as a shrine and realize that living for others has more eternal value than living for oneself. A time when selfishness retreats and symbiotic altruism finally blossoms, that is the 21st century to come. "The fulfillment of these words is exactly what we need to unfold, with Mother's center." We have to pledge to complete the world of emotional culture through the life of living connected to our true bloodline, focusing on mental training and fulfilling the ideal of unity. People who have nothing to do with their bloodline if they can't live for it. Blessed and linked to our true bloodline we must live for. Living a life of service for the Heavenly Parents, for the Fathers, for the Church and the State, to change it into a bloodline that "lives for the cause". I was told you guys are the one needle I should be looking for, my direct son and daughter. In order to prepare a criteria of feelings that enables you to grieve with your mother in her sorrow and rejoice with her in her joyous moments, I pray that this night will become a complete infant cry and pray in order to fully enter your mother's womb and be united with your mother's phase.
