

College, Video Contest, Online Courses!

Richard Panzer
January 11, 2012

Greetings!

It's been a busy time at UTS. We've submitted a proposal to the New York State Education Department to offer a Bachelor of Arts degree program that we are tentatively calling "Barrytown College on the Hudson." Once approved and accredited (hopefully by March), we will be accepting applications for the Fall, 2012 term.

To highlight the contributions that we believe Barrytown College will be making to Unificationist culture in the years to come, we are launching the 2012 "My Spiritual Awakening" Video Contest, which offers prizes of $2,000, $1,000 and $500 for videos expressing how the creator or someone else had a spiritual awakening or breakthrough. Genre may be fiction, documentary/ interview, or animation.

For more information about the 2012 "My Spiritual Awakening" Video Contest, visit www.barrytowncollege.org/video-contest. And, please help us by spreading the word to any teenage or young adult filmmakers (ages 14 - 29) you know!

Third, we're busily preparing to offer online continuing education courses, which will start on February 1. Several of these courses will count towards a certificate in Unification Ministry. You do NOT need to have a college degree to take these courses! All of these courses offer you an opportunity to develop new insights and skills!

For example, we always talk about GIVING our time and money, but how about GETTING resources to expand our ability to serve others? There are thousands of businesses, foundations and government agencies out there looking for places to give their funds, they just don't know which groups to give to!

Grant Writing is the art of being the one who gets funding and putting it towards a cause that reflects your incredible plan to transform or serve the community in which you live! If you are working with a great non-profit or want to know how to fund an idea for one, this course is for you!

Kitty Wojick is a gifted grant-writer who has been getting $ to where it matters for years in the professional and non-profit world. She is breaking down the basics for all us beginners so that we can harness the power of grant writing and use those skills to make a better world.
