The question we all have since the beginning of time: WHO AM I?

On my way back to San Diego California, from Albany New York, on July 4th the plane was half full. I could relax and meditate, looking at the friendly skies from above.

Who am I?

First and foremost, I am a beloved daughter of God.

A woman chosen for such a time as this.

Like Joan of Arc, our French heroine, I cannot be defeated.

I do the impossible task of building the Kingdom of Heaven, right here on the earth.

I am my husband Dietrich's eternal wife.

I give love wherever I go, because it was given to me abundantly.

I am a mother who gave life to two children.

I am Christopher's beloved mother.

I am Diesa's beloved mother

I am a tribe mother.

I gave life to 43 blessed couples.

I gave life to 430 couples as tribe members.

I gave new life to 430 ancestor couples.

I am so blessed to be a Mother.

Our tribe's motto is:

"Opening the gates of Heaven with Holy Mother Han, the mother of peace, by supporting each other."

This is who I think I am.
