Dear women leaders and sisters in faith,

Thank you for an especially inspiring, uplifting and rich Interfaith Women's Prayer Circle sharing last week on December 5th. Truly each and every contribution and reflections from the women and mothers in attendance revealed a profound heart, deep wisdom and love.

The reading and recording below is worthwhile listening to again and sharing about in your family circle or with friends, and expand the heart and spirit of a true America!

Our next and final prayer circle for this year will be held on Saturday, December 19, 2020!

Please, stay safe, and continue to stay in the spirit of love until next time!

With warm wishes,
Angelika Selle

Reading from Saturday, December 5th: Mother of Peace Memoirs, Chapter 9, page 257

"Evil is acting for selfish gain, whereas goodness is to serve others and let go of the memory of having done so. When we give and forget, true love flourishes. We do not run out of love by giving it away. Quite the opposite: True love is a spring that flows in ever greater abundance. When walking the path of love, even when you give something precious, you feel that you did not give enough. Living with true love does not make one prideful; if anything, one feels sorry for not being able to give something even better.

True love moves on a circular path. Where it starts or ends, no one knows. Love within limits is not true love. True love is always new, yet is unchanging. Circumstances and environment change, but true love remains. It does not grow old or stale; it is ever fresh, in spring, in summer, in autumn and winter, in your youth, your adulthood and your old age."
