Introducing Dr. Suzy Ismail, our second speaker for the upcoming Global Women's Peace Network series on Women's Leadership in Reconciliation and Peacemaking!

During our virtual live edition on What You Might Not Know About the Family, she will be sharing on "Is Love Really Love?" She will dive into a faith-based perspective on love and socio-emotional success, overcoming societal expectations, and developing healthy emotional and physical intimacy.

Dr. Ismail is the Founding Director of Cornerstone, a nonprofit, faith-based communication intervention organization with several locations around the world that focus on youth, family, marriage, identity, socioemotional wellness, and relationship rebuilding. She is the author of many books including "Modern Muslim Marriage," "9 to 5," "When Muslim Marriage Fails," and several other works.

As a Visiting Professor for over a decade in the Communication Departments of Rutgers University and DeVry University, Dr. Ismail has researched, written, and presented extensively on the intersectionality of education, faith, communication, and culture. She has presented on the topics of marriage, family, parenting, identity, and teens at many universities around the world, and at the World Meeting of Families during Pope Francis' first visit to the US.

She holds an MA in Communication and in Human Services and a PhD in Family Studies & Intervention Strategies. Dr. Ismail currently resides in Princeton, New Jersey with her husband and three children.

Register today and join us for the session on Monday, February 15 at 3 PM EST.
