Nishia Slater

March 2, 2022 · WFWP USA

Watch Full HerStory Program from Feb 26, 2022

Nishia Slater was awarded the HerStory Award at the National HerStory Award launch of the Global Women's Peace Network on February 26, 2022, for her exemplary journey of overcoming unimaginable obstacles and using her life lessons to help many more women become empowered through her work.

Being born into poverty in the early 80's, I was not aware of the opportunities I had in front of me. I have learned how to use my trauma and obstacles as stepping stones to get me where I am. Growing up I knew I wanted to help people, but I didn't know how because my voice was taken away from me at an early age. Even though this has been a passion of mine for a long time, I did not know where to start and I never had anyone to help me.

I have spent the majority of my life being a loving mother to my 3 children. From being a high school dropout to having a baby at 14 to being raped and molested over and over again, I chose not to give up. I knew my children needed me and in the long run, I learned that I needed myself. I didn't understand that I wasn't living my life with purpose, but I rose above it and started to focus on myself, which helped me to feel empowered and confident.

During the pandemic, I launched my Life Coaching business and became the owner of Star Life wellness Group LLC, helping women to choose themselves and live life with purpose. Since then, I have been interviewed, spoke on panels, been a guest speaker on podcasts, hosted events, became a 2x published author, public speaker, transformed my life for the better, and so much more!

In 2019 I created a space for women to empower, inspire, and uplift them, since then it has grown to nearly 1,000 women. The connections I have made with those women have been life changing.

I have provided free 4 week beta coaching to women who are not able to afford my coaching program, but want to make a change and difference in their lives. This has brought me relationships with women from all over. I have grown to mentor them and assist them through their journey.

My webinars I create are to help women break through their generational trauma and develop a healthier mindset. This allows me to bring awareness in our community, in households, and help women to embrace themselves and live up to their true potential. I desire to see women living life on purpose.

My mission for 2022 and moving forward is to hold space for women who have endured trauma and are afraid to change. I am creating workshops, seminars, and coaching programs to help them along their journey. It brings me great joy seeing and helping women to see and understand their worth and gain the confidence they need along the way. I am on the mission to become recognized as a national public speaker. I want to use my voice for women who have lost their voice and show them how to be their authentic selves.

This journey has taught me to be the change I want to see in this world.

Joan Myers

Watch Full HerStory Program from Feb 26, 2022

Joan Myers was awarded the HerStory Award at the National HerStory Award launch of the Global Women's Peace Network on February 26, 2022, for her exemplary commitment to using her musical and singing talents to enhance the lives of others with love and compassion.

Joan Amelia Myers is a multi-talented individual, a gospel singer, songwriter and a dynamic performer. She is also a successful businesswoman with Brooklyn's Leading Information Technology Center – B & C Cyberspace Inc. as CEO. However, at the center of Joan's heart and her life, is her love for the Lord Jesus Christ. Joan is a woman with a passion for music and a mission to win souls for Christ.

Joan is the sixth of eight children born to Reverend Egbert and Mrs. Myers. Her musical development began at place called Haddington, in the hills of Hanover, Jamaica. Under the tutelage her mother, Joan and her siblings "The Myers" sang as family group in her church.

Joan began singing professionally in 1982 as member of her local church choir, Holiness Christian Church and in 1986 she was invited to join the gospel group "The Love Singers." Myers toured with the group extensively laying a foundation for her musical career locally. Myers' popularity and professionalism grew rapidly. In 1991 she was invited to join Jamaica's and the Caribbean's most successful gospel group 'The Grace Thrillers.' as one of Jamaica's International ambassador. She recorded two albums with the Grace Thrillers; 'Can't even Walk', 'Make us One' and made videos for three of the albums. Myers’ international career began forming as she toured the Caribbean, Canada, the British Virgin Island, and the United States as a back up and lead vocalist with the Grace thrillers. During her time with the Grace Thrillers, she shared stage with great singers such as Shirley Caesar, The Talley’s, Rev. FC Barnes, Andre Crouch, Jessie Dixon, Monty Alexander, just to name a few. Her now solo career has afforded her the privilege of sharing stages with outstanding musical icons such - Alvin Slaughter, Luther Barnes, Candi Staton, Huntley Brown, Papa San, Judy Mowatt, Carlene Davis as well as Ken Boothe, Morgan Heritage & Leroy Sibbles just to name a few.

Joan attended Bethel All-Age school where she was a member of the school’s performing group that participated in Jamaica’s National Festival Competition. At Herbert Morrison Comprehensive High school Joan played the clarinet in her high school band and sang in the school’s choir. She was also an active member of the Inter School Christian Fellowship club.

With ambition to become a Certified Chartered Accountant, Myers graduated from Durham Business College with a Diploma in Accounting and was also awarded the Noel Hylton Challenge Cup for Accounting. She successfully completed the Association of Accountants and Technicians examination and pursued further studies for the Association of Certified and Public Accountants.

In 1996, Joan migrated to the United States where she pursued a degree in Accounting at the City University of New York. She was encouraged by Reggae Legend Freddie McGregor to develop her talent. Her brother Benjy Myaz who is also her producer convinced Joan to pursue a solo singing career. In 2000 Joan returned to Jamaica and began to record her solo album “Wanna Be Ur’s” at Freddie McGregor’s his Big Ship Studio. Myers’ solo career took off immediately. Her second album is expected to be released soon.

Joan has an engaging personality, the charisma and talent that attracts people to her. She is self- assured in her unshakable faith and the source of her life, Jesus Christ. Myers believes that God has not called her to a “hall of fame”, but as a strong woman to make Him famous amongst the feeble.” She desires to be who God wants her to be and make herself available to be used by Him. Joan’s desire is that the Kingdom of God be established through her music, allowing for the portals of heaven to open each time she worships Him.

Myers has achieved several milestones as a solo artist. She has performed at several important events in the Caribbean and American community:

- The Caribbean American Mother of the Year Pagent – hosted by Clive Williams

HerStory Award

Throughout history we have heard much about 'his story,' which means there is still so much of 'her story' yet to be told. To unearth these incredible stories, WFWP USA recognizes and honors women not only for their outstanding accomplishments in various fields of endeavor, in the form of a HerStory Award, but especially for the story "behind it."

Each HerStory recipient has been selected for her courage, compassion, and commitment to using her gifts and talents to uplift others, despite often overwhelming challenges. Upon receiving this award, we ask the recipient to share a few practical points of lessons learned as they overcame trials and tribulations, in order to encourage other women, and also to share those nuggets of wisdom with the next generation.

This award encourages all women to know that by investing into people and relationships, you have influence and thus already are a leader regardless of title or position, and thus have the ability to accomplish extraordinary things for the sake of the greater good!

This is a tribute to all the women around the world who are not just leaders, but peace leaders that are "Living by the Logic of Love."
