PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Dear Ladies, Friends, and Families,

Happy New Year 2017!

I hope your new year's resolutions are still intact?! In case you are a bit behind, the Chinese New Year began on January 28 this year, so we have another opportunity.

According to the Chinese calendar, 2017 is the year of the fire rooster! I love the four virtues that the fire rooster represents and thought to share them with you:

Civil Service - "Crown" (comb) on his head;
Courage - fights without retreat (for goodness);
Generosity - shares food with others;
Sincerity - always lets us know the right time in the morning.

In WFWP USA we dedicate 2017 to be the Year of Solutions, Problem-Solving, and Actions for Goodness, infused with these virtues above.

In the spirit of the fire rooster of courageously speaking out, I had a wonderful opportunity to be on the "Aimmee Kodachian and the Experts" show in Las Vegas this month. I was interviewed about "Women as the Turning Point for Peace." (See article below that includes the video clips of the show.) Ms. Kodachian spoke at last year's National Assembly in New Jersey (in last month's newsletter and on the website); and is an ardent supporter of the WFWP chapter in Las Vegas.

Also this year, WFWP will celebrate its 25th Anniversary around the country, and we will take this opportunity to "Show and Tell" the greater public about our noble Founders, our Philosophy of Peace, national and local activities; and the amazing women who, with a sacrificial heart and spirit, have been laying a wide foundation for impact over the last two plus decades in the new series introducing WFWP's National Chairwomen.

In 2017 we will continue to empower and educate women in creating peace as peace leaders in their homes, the greater community, the nation, and the world; to be an alternative voice to that of hatred, strife, confusion, and despair. We are also actively seeking to create chapters in the remaining 15 states in the U.S. So, if you would like to start a chapter in your state, please let us know. We will assist you!

Regardless of how things may look around us, we are very hopeful and excited because we are certain that lasting change for the better will come from our Creator first within our hearts, and then will be actualized elsewhere.

The process has already begun and is gaining momentum. We invite you to join in this process.

NORTH CAROLINA

People Making the Difference in North Carolina

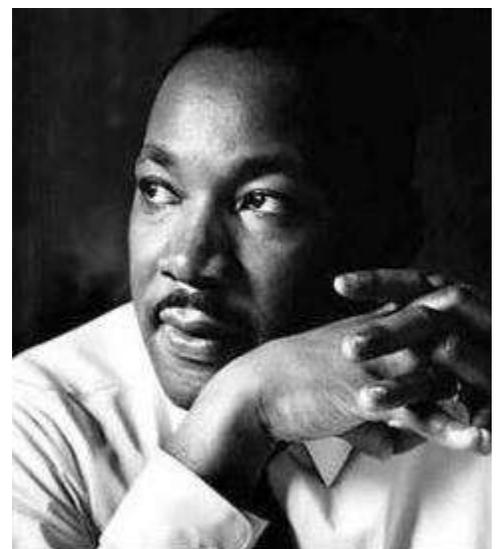

By Carolyn Sampson, Coordinator of WFWP in North Carolina

Last weekend was a historic one for the WFWP North Carolina Chapter. Not only was it the 7th Annual WFWP/WOA Gathering, but January 14 was the launch of the WFWP/WOA "Putting on The Ritz Gala" benefit VIP reception to honor compassionate sustainable leadership. It was the signature kickoff event for the Annual MLK, Jr. Celebration 2017. The WFWP, North Carolina Chapter, the MLK, Jr. Task Force of Cary, the Universal Peace Federation (UPF) of NC, and TheGifted Arts Inc. (with the stated mission to inspire our youth to transcend limitations and embrace purpose), partnered and co-sponsored the whole event to begin the journey. It was a celebration of Martin Luther King, Jr. Day and the legacy of peace and humanity he established, through serving and loving His children.

Guests arrived at the beautiful Water Garden Park (WGP) in Raleigh, North Carolina dressed to impress and ready to enjoy a night full of fun, entertainment, food, and giving. Guests could expect to network, sit back and relax, or both. At any point in the evening, attendees found themselves: gaming at the WGP Casino Royale, bidding in the WGP

Silent Auction, enjoying delicious hors d'oeuvres and drinks; being entertained by special guest national recording artist Gerald Hinton and TheGifted Arts pop up performers; and dancing, dancing, and more dancing.

More than a hundred people came and contributed their time and money to help enable the continuance of services, programs, and initiatives for the community partners co-sponsoring the evening's affair. The total results of funds raised from contributions, the silent auction, and "A dollar can help" envelopes are still being tallied; but from what is known now, the totals will be great enough to make a difference!

AK and The Experts Show Features WFWP USA

By Angelika Selle

As mentioned in the President's Corner, while I was in Las Vegas, it was a pleasure to have the opportunity to share WFWP's vision and heart on Aimmee Kodachian's The Experts show at the beginning of this brand new year 2017! The show aired to about three million subscribers on January 23, 2017 and can be seen by clicking here for the first segment, and clicking here for the second segment.

I am convinced that this is indeed just the beginning for the voices of peace, love, reconciliation, and action to be heard and seen throughout 2017!

ANNOUNCING: CSW61

CSW61 On the Horizon

By Ms. Kiyomi Schmidt

WFWP USA would like to share with you several exciting upcoming festivities. The WFWP International UN office will be hosting a number of programs and events during this year's Commission on the Status of Women (CSW61), which will take place from March 13th to the 24th, 2017. All WFWP International related events will take place during the first week of the CSW61 in the New York City area. Below is an outline of the scheduled events. Registration and further details will be forthcoming.

The theme for this year's CSW61 is "Women's Economic Empowerment in the Changing World of Work." For highlights of CSW61 events, see the schedule in the Upcoming WFWP events section of the newsletter. In addition, there will be hundreds of free CSW parallel events open to the public. Those who wish to participate in the parallel events can register here by March 3rd.

WASHINGTON, DC

Brightwood Community Swept Up Into the Media

By Katherine Cromwell, Logic of Love News Editor-in-Chief

On a crisp December morning, Minister Chi Mauuso was sweeping in front of her house as is part of her daily routine to keep the neighborhood clean and sparkling. One of her neighbors from across the street came hurrying over to her, "Minister Chi, Minister Chi, come quickly, there's a reporter over there who wants to know about our neighborhood and you are the person most qualified to speak for us. Come quickly. Here, I'll take your broom and finish your sweeping for you!"

Minister Chi crossed the street and introduced herself to Ms. Audrey Hoffer, a freelance writer for the Washington Post. In the article, Alfreda-Chi Mauuso is introduced as "the former ANC (Advisory Neighborhood Commission), commissioner, works with the Women's Federation for World Peace International, which among other local projects teaches children character." She spoke about changes in the neighborhood, and was quoted as saying, "There were drugs that you could visibly see and leaking gasoline drums on the streets. People didn't take walks on Georgia Avenue. Now it's wonderful here. We have stores. We have many restaurants. We have a good relationship with the local police department. We have friendly people who care about the community."

The article was published in the Washington Post Real Estate section on Saturday December 17, 2016 (click here to access article). When WFWP members work to brighten up our neighborhoods, it is noticed; and amazing opportunities like this appear in the blink of an eye. It is an opportunity to introduce people to the work WFWP members are doing to make each neighborhood safe and secure for our families by "living for the sake of others."

NEW SERIES: INTRODUCTION

Getting to Know WFWP USA Chairwomen

By Katherine Cromwell

There are many unassuming, unsung women in the world who quietly go about their days living according to their consciences and doing everything in their power to make the world a better place not only for themselves and their families, but for everyone else as well. They are women of substance. They are women who lead with the heart of a mother caring for her children. They know their own minds because they know God; and they know that there has to be a better way for everyone to live without all this fighting among nations, bickering among individuals, and feuding among families and tribes.

When these women encounter WFWP, they see a chance to make an even bigger difference in their own lives and the lives of others. Some of the women who join WFWP have such a strong internal motivation to be a positive change in the world that they volunteer to become a chairwoman of a chapter of WFWP.

WFWP USA Chairwomen at 2016 Retreat in Tampa, FL

WFWP USA would like to introduce these women to you through the newsletter and ultimately the website where all these articles remain. Each month in 2017, the Logic of Love News will introduce you to one of these amazing quiet women who have that determination and have made that commitment to spearheading a chapter using their own unique gifts and experiences. It is that quiet motivation that has been the foundation of their chapter activities. It strengthens them and those in their chapters to strive to make their surroundings and the world a better place for everyone, not just themselves.

This month, January, Mrs. Denneze Nelson, Chairwoman in New Jersey, is being featured. Look forward to hearing about chairwomen in states all over the US each month this year. Get to know the core of your chairwoman. If you want to write about your chairwoman, or if you want me to interview your chairwoman, please contact me at wfwp.newsletter@gmail.com, and let me know. As we get to know each other better, we can be more united in our efforts to be the change in the United States.

NEW JERSEY

Every Successful Action Begins with Intention

By Katherine Cromwell

Mrs. Denneze Nelson is the full-time mother of four children, 2 boys and 2 girls, ranging in age from 10 to 18 years old. She is also a full-time employee of the US Department of Veteran Affairs in New Jersey. She is the Medical Foster Home Program Manager that places veterans into homes to be cared for, instead of going into a nursing home. The slogan of the program is: Where Heroes Meet Angels.

Before her present employment, she worked in the field of domestic violence for seven years as a counselor for victims of domestic abuse. Having worked for that long with victims, she has acquired unique insight and understanding of people in pain, both emotional and physical. Denneze said that it is in this job she could deeply understand the status of women in the world and the need for women to come into a true understanding of themselves.

She holds a Masters of Religious Education (MRE) and another in Social Work (MSW) is a licensed clinical social worker (LCSW), and is a marriage and family therapist.

When WFWP was founded in 1992 on April 10, Denneze was living in her native country, Guyana, where as a founding member she was actively involved in the registration and growth of WFWP. After she moved to the US in 1995, she lived in New York and New Jersey with her husband. She attended the WFWP Bridges of Peace ceremonies, crossed the bridge numerous times, and experienced the healing and reconciliatory effects of these events.

RECIPE: BEEF STEW WITH DILL

The Perfect Remedy for a Chilly, Winter Day

By Sarah Falconi

With the chilly weather settling in this winter season, why not rustle up a nice, hot stew? I highly recommend this homemade beef stew with dill (and veggies!), as a great recipe. It'll not only keep you full, but will also warm your insides to fight off any colds or other reled illnesses that are lurking nearby. Hope you enjoy it and have a safe, warm, and healthy winter season!

Serves: 4 to 6 people

Total time: 30-50 mins.

Ingredients

- 2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
- 2 pounds beef chuck, cut into 1 1/2-inch pieces
- Salt
- Pepper
- 1 quart chicken stock or low-sodium broth
- 6 shallots, halved
- 1/2 pound carrots, cut into 2-inch lengths
- 1 1/2 cups frozen peas
- 5 ounces curly spinach
- 2 tablespoons chopped dill
- Crusty bread, for serving

Instructions

1. In a large saucepan, heat the olive oil until simmering. Season the meat with salt and pepper and add it to the saucepan in a single layer. Cook over moderately high heat, turning occasionally, until browned all over, about 10 minutes. Add the stock and shallots and bring to a boil. Simmer over low heat until the meat is tender, about 1 1/2 hours.

2. Add the carrots to the saucepan and simmer until tender, about 12 minutes. Add the peas, spinach and dill and cook until the spinach is wilted, about 2 minutes. Ladle the stew into bowls and serve with crusty bread.

Note: The stew can be refrigerated overnight. Reheat gently before serving.

GEORGIA

Peace Begins With Me

By Ms. Myrna Lapres

How to kick off 2017 as leaders of heart and substance? This was the question of the leadership team of WFWP's Georgia Chapter: co-chairwomen Myrna Lapres and Ekaette Heyliger, and Treasurer Miambi Koko. The team decided to begin by inspiring ourselves and our church community first. That is how it was decided to hold a Bridge of Peace ceremony on January first during the worship service at the Atlanta Family Church in Ellenwood, Georgia. The theme of the Sunday Service was "Peace Begins With Me."

Myrna Lapres gave a short talk to set the tone for the service and served as the emcee. Ekaette Heyliger introduced the Bridge of Peace, and Miambi Koko organized the entertainment and dancing. The program was composed of three elements. The first was reflection and repentance. Then was the offering and commitment. The final element was celebration through music and entertainment. We invited all families and individuals to cross the Bridge of Peace as an opportunity to recommit to practicing understanding, caring for, and loving each other.

ANNOUNCING NEW CHAIRWOMEN FOR 2017

Kathryn Davis

Mrs. Jeannette Henry seated to the right of Mrs. Selle

Patricia Fliginger

ILLINOIS, Chicago Appreciation and Welcome

After more than 6 years of leading the Chicago WFWP chapter, investing her heart and sincerity to represent, lead, and work with WFWP in Chicago, Patricia Fliginger is taking on the role of an Adviser in the further development of the Chicago chapter.

We sincerely thank Mrs. Fliginger for all her efforts, seen and unseen, especially in the area of collaborating and supporting our other affiliated/sister organizations in the Chicago area.

The incoming chairwoman is Kathryn Davis, who has stepped forward to take on the position of WFWP chairwoman in Illinois/Chicago as of the beginning of January. Kathryn brings her own unique gifts and talents to the position. She will build on the foundation that has been created as we move toward our 2020 goals. The transition ceremony will take place in Chicago on February 19.

A warm WELCOME to Kathryn Davis!

MINNESOTA

Looking for a New Chairwoman! By Angelika Selle

It certainly has been a joy and pleasure to work with Mrs. Jeannette Henry who assumed the role of chairwoman after the 2012 National Assembly. She revived the WFWP chapter in Minnesota from that time. She brought ladies to the assemblies and retreats, and also found excellent speakers, and put on wonderful programs.

Thank you so very much for your leadership there, even beyond your original commitment! With blessings in all you do!

WFWP Minnesota Chapter is looking for a woman who is called to assume the position of chairwoman. If you know of anyone who would like to take on this important role in Minnesota, please contact Ms. Katarina Connery, kconnery@wfwp.us. She is waiting to hear from you!

Labors of Love: Tips and Ideas for Valentine's Day

By Ms. Kiyomi Schmidt

Valentine's Day is the perfect day to let your significant other know how much you care. Whether you have been together for one year, or fifty years, doing something a little out of the ordinary is a great way to invest in your relationship and make him or her feel extra special. In addition to sharing your kind thoughts and words, here are a few creative options and sweet treats for a memorable day.

Cupcake Bouquet: I am very intrigued by this idea. You may be able to purchase these at a bakery, for instance, at Baked Bouquet in New Jersey (bakedbouquet.com). However, if you are willing to take on the challenge at home, be sure to watch a few tutorials like this one here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LS--hKfKvHg>.

A tip I would suggest when making this for the first time would be to use the same size pot as the Styrofoam ball, or one slightly smaller. This way the ball sits a little deeper into the pot, and the cupcakes are not totally defying gravity. Another tip to prevent the bouquet from being too top-heavy would be to add some weights at the bottom of the pot.

Raspberry Heart Cheesecake: I tested this recipe a few years ago. It looked beautiful, but was much too sweet for my taste with the added white chocolate. I would recommend instead using a plain cheesecake batter before adding the raspberry droplets. Another tip: If your heart droplets do not turn out as planned, use a toothpick to make it a marbled swirl instead! Get the directions here: <http://www.cookingclassy.com/white-chocolate-raspberry-cheesecake-2/>

Breakfast idea: For those looking for something a little easier to whip up, how about making breakfast with fresh squeezed grapefruit juice topped with mint, pancakes cutout with heart cookie cutters, and a side of bacon and eggs. Wake up 30 minutes early to whip this up and enjoy breakfast together in bed.

Chocolate Dipped Strawberries: Who doesn't love chocolate and fruit? A few quick tips in making chocolate strawberries: One, make sure to dry the strawberries completely before dipping them into the chocolate. Otherwise the chocolate starts to clump and the strawberry will not have that smooth, effortless look. Two, to jazz them up, consider rolling the dipped strawberries in chopped peanuts or crushed Oreos for added texture and visual appeal.

Ambiance: If you choose to have dinner in, set the table! A few tea light candles and flowers go a long way in creating a warm loving atmosphere. Here is a simple centerpiece of flower petals, water, a bowl, and floating candles for something a bit unique. And sit down together, relax, and enjoy each other's company! The rest of the year is ahead of you to live and love together.

Swearing into Office -- A Family Affair

By Mrs. Rhia Nkulu

It was my first experience and a great honor to witness the swearing-in ceremony of local government officials in the City of Mesa, Arizona. I had been invited by our friend Councilman Ryan D. Winkle to attend.

I was very inspired to see that each of these newly elected officials: Councilman Mark Freeman, Councilman Jeremy Whittaker and Councilman Ryan D. Winkle were each sworn in by their Mothers. I had never heard of that before! Then Mayor John Giles was sworn in by each of his children who read him the Oath of Office. It was a beautiful event and, surprisingly, truly a family affair!

What touched me most was the influence of their mothers in raising such accomplished sons who could become such great assets to the nation! And now, each with his wife's support, they can do greater things together!

Councilman Ryan Winkle sworn in by his mother

Mayor John Miles and his children reading him the Oath of Office

Being the chairwoman of the Arizona Chapter of WFWP, I now am more inspired to bring even greater awareness of our responsibilities as women, wives, and mothers. We truly have such a huge responsibility in creating our families to help them become wonderful citizens of this world!

We extend huge congratulations to each of those men who took office, and to the organizers of that beautiful event! This should be broadcasted in the news to inspire more people to do their best and to demonstrate how we can all work together to create a better world, one community at a time.

WASHINGTON -- SEATTLE

Sweet Peace on Earth

By Ms. Sarah Nishioka

In December 2016 we had a wonderful Holiday Gratitude Gathering. We shared love, joy, gifts, and delicious foods with each other. We also brought gifts to help women at the Seattle Jubilee Women's Center (<http://www.jwcenter.org/>). Jubilee offers residential housing as well as learning and training opportunities for qualified non-residential low income women who earn less than $19,000 a year at their Learning and Opportunity Center (LOC).

Ella Byrne shared about her experiences at the WFWP National Assembly and Julia Granstrom shared about her experience at the recent WFWP retreat in Tampa, Florida. A representative from Jubilee spoke to us as well. We are very grateful for this outreach, and for having an opportunity to help them in their good work to help low-income women get back on their feet and get the training they need to lead better lives.

We sang songs of joy and love together. Our theme song was a song created by a musician and child educator after the tragedy of 9-11. This is how it goes:

"May, may all, may all children, may all people everywhere hear our prayer.

May, may all, may all children, may all people everywhere live in peace.

Sweet peace, peaceful minds, peaceful hearts, peace on earth. Sweet peace on earth."

The song became a mantra in our hearts. In 2017 we will continue to work together with Jubilee to restore the dignity and respect of all women, no matter what external differences there may be.

PLANNING FOR A VIBRANT 2017

WFWP USA Chapters On the Move into 2017

By Katherine Cromwell

It's January. WFWP chapters across the country are holding planning meetings to decide where the chapters will be going this year and what issues their chapters will focus on and invest in. Here are short reports from a few of these meetings.

The Arizona Chapter planning team met on January 15. It was a treat that many of the attendees were actually new to WFWP. Ms. Veronica Tashiro gave a moving introduction to WFWP and brochures were given to the newer members. Then on January 16 they all joined together to march in the MLK, Jr. parade in Mesa, Arizona. Afterwards all of the attendees discussed the plan for a 25th WFWP Anniversary celebration in the latter part of May.

In Washington, DC, three chapters, the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia came together with President Selle, for their planning meeting on January 6. What a blessing for this area that WFWP USA President can attend the meetings! Mrs. Selle gave a lot of inspiration and guidance for 2017. All the chapter representatives left the meeting with renewed determination to make 2017 a year of substance, solutions, and actions for goodness!

There was also a planning meeting in the Las Vegas, Nevada Chapter on January 10 to prepare for a dynamic year ahead. And in New Jersey, their planning meeting took place on January 14 and I'm sure it was filled with energy for 2017.

In on Sunday, January 15 members of the Northern California Chapter planning committee met and took a donation of toiletries and cosmetics to the April Showers program which serves homeless people in San Leandro. On three Sundays a month, this program offers showers, clean clothes, and a meal to homeless people at the Boys and Girls Club in San Leandro. A good way to start the year planning and serving at the same time.

As more reports come in about activities in various chapters, the newsletter will continue to inform you the WFWP USA is "On the Move in 2017!" Together with God and Mother Moon's leadership, the chapters will do even greater things in 2017!
