You will become part of a global experience engaging those who have different perspectives; learning from other online students from around the world.

“My course work will help me look through the lens of religion and culture in understanding the peoples of the world. I intend to be an academic teacher, journalist, and an advocate of cultural understanding in this lifetime.”

— Marivir Montebon, M.A. Student

“Being a UTS student is challenging, but it has deepened and given more meaning to my spiritual journey in life. The classes are pragmatic but highly reflective and inward looking,”
