Dear brothers and sisters,

There is a lot of excitement coming from Korea right now.

Especially the good news that True Mother has been granted one more month in the hospital to recover from her recent shoulder surgery and to regain her health in general.

We are grateful for small mercies.

Of course, we still prayer and long for her total release as soon as possible.

Meanwhile, this weekend is filled with broadcasts from Korea for us all to enjoy.

Besides the great works, there is the blessing ceremony, which will be shown live at 5 PM Pacific time.

Please check out all of our lovely young couples getting blessed.

God Bless,

Kevin and Masako Thompson
