Her 80th Birthday! She was always full of so much JOY and LOVE to give and share.

Early this morning around 5:45am on Sunday, August 28, 2016 my Mama took her final journey home to be with God. She passed peacefully in her sleep and is now reunited with my Papa and other loved ones. Over these last 3 weeks, Jario, myself and many of her close family and friends were able to pray, sing and share their "final words" with her many times. I am grateful to have been able to be there for her during her special and final journey in life.

I truly believe that Mama lived an amazing life of love, joy and faith- always loving others and always loving God. I know I am one of many whose lives have been touched by hers, as well as my Papa's.

Thank you all for all of your love, support and prayers during this time. Although I will always miss her I know she lives on in our hearts and in our way of life - she is now at peace and free breathing in God's love. As she so much deserves.

I love you Mama forever.
