

WFWPI: Women's Federation for World Peace is Looking for a UN Representative in New York!

Alexa Ward
December 1, 2022

WFWPI is looking for a UN Representative in New York

If you are interested in becoming a UN Representative or would like to learn more, please send resume and cover letter to unoffice@wfwp.org

Deadline to apply is December 26.

For more information about WFWP check out our website at www.wfwp.org

Dear all,

Are you interested in Global Affairs? Have you ever wondered how global decision-making works? Want to volunteer your time to make a difference in the world?

The Women's Federation for World Peace International (WFWPI) is currently looking for a volunteer to be a UN Representative. This is a great opportunity for those that would like to gain volunteer experience, particularly with Global Affairs/Political Science.

Areas of Focus

- Women and the Empowerment
- Bridging Divides
- Raising Young Peace Loving Leaders

Requirements

- We are looking for someone located in the New York Tri-State area
- Must be fully vaccinated
- Willing to volunteer 12-15 hours a month
- Join regular meetings

Benefits

1 year grounds pass to the United Nations Headquarters in New York

- Opportunity to represent and work with WFWPI
- Opportunity to develop skills, including advocacy, peacebuilding, public speaking, networking and other skills, program development and event planning.

Please send resume and cover letter to unoffice@wfwp.org if you are interested in applying!

Deadline to Apply: December 26th

For more information about WFWP, check out our website at www.wfwp.org