UPF-Argentina -- "One Argentina Through Peace" was the theme of the 7th Peace Road 2021, which took place on November 28, 2021 and crossed the 23 provinces through a "virtual walk" of "Actions of Peace and Hope." The event was broadcast on Zoom and YouTube (1). The starting point was in the capital and concluded with a semi-onsite artistic performances connecting with our roots and patriots. The event included declarations of legislative and municipal interest from government entities and from cities and provinces across the country.

This event highlighted the cultural richness and natural beauty of every region, and the actions and initiatives created in each province under Peace Road 2021: community, ecological, artistic-cultural, educational, sports related or interreligious and intercultural. It began in the province of Santa Fe, and then on to Entre Ríos, Corrientes, Misiones, Chaco, Formosa, Jujuy, Salta, Tucumán, Santiago del Estero, Catamarca, La Rioja, Córdoba, San Juan, Mendoza, San Luis, Neuquén, Río Negro, Santa Cruz, Tierra del Fuego (Antarctica), Chubut, La Pampa, and Buenos Aires.

"An International Peace Highway is a global comprehensive project to bring the world closer to unity. It is much more than connecting the continents through tunnels and bridges... it will improve the current imbalance of groundwater and human resources. It will level the richness for it to be more consistent and offer a better life for all," expressed Rev. Dong Mo Shin, director of UPF-South America and the Peace Road Foundation in South America, connecting with the words of UPF Founder Rev. Sun Myung Moon after a promotional video on the 2021 Peace Road International (2).

"Today is a special Sunday. All of us who have a mission in this universal work, who endeavor from our places to contribute to the building of a peaceful world, a fair society, here we are, from Jujuy, the gates of the homeland... We harmonize with this theme... being united and interconnected in our planet and world, which is everyone's world... We will have a beautiful day of love, faith, peace," declared National Senator Silvia del Rosario Giacoppo, representative of International Association of Parliamentarians for Peace (IAPP) Argentina, before the beginning of the journey across the country.

A group of young people were at Km. 0, the starting point of all highways, near the National Congress. There, a greeting was given by Johana Ochoa, president of Tong Il Moo Do-Argentina, member of Argentina's 2021 Peace Road National Organizing Committee, along with the new Ambassadors for Peace: David Barbieri, medical officer in charge of the Health Department of Volunteer Firefighters Association in Nueva Pompeya and Barracas; and athlete Alejandro Fernandez, representative of various national and international adapted-cycling events by CILSA, an inclusive NGO. Ambassador for Peace Gabriela Abarzúa joined in the middle of the journey from the monument to the creator of the national flag, Manuel Belgrano, at Vicente López's Paseo de la Costa, province of Buenos Aires. Originally, the plan was to go biking from these places to Parque Sarmiento in Buenos Aires City, but the organization suspended this due to the weather.

The "walk" across Argentina, which took more than two hours, was an educational and practical example on how to build peace in every community, with educational activities, sports projects, ecological campaigns of tree planting, interreligious initiatives, support of feeding centers, artistic talent and diversity of cultural expressions from each region, and development of spirituality connected to the dignity of each individual. This event was coordinated by different civil society organizations and other areas, including countless promotional and support messages of Peace Road from personalities, (3) including Tierra del Fuego's Governor, Gustavo Melella. The southernmost province in Argentina, Tierra del Fuego, is connected to the "white peace continent": Antarctica.

The general director of Caminata de las Quenas, Luis Melano, proclaimed at the end: "Long live Jujuy!", "Long live UPF!", "Long live the Homeland!" after repeating the commitment manifested in different parts of the country: "One Argentina is possible through Peace."
