Dollars and Sense of Human Trafficking and Exploitation
Tuesday, May 20, 2025 @ 2 - 3pm EDT

In its simplest form, economics is about producing supplies to meet the demands of consumers. Pornography, sex trafficking, child sexual abuse and human exploitation of all kinds is a multitrillion-dollar business, driven, in part, by criminal rings and corporations of all sizes – many of which are household names. How can society reduce the demand for commercialized sex that destroys individuals, families and communities? What can be done to cripple or hold accountable the criminal groups and producers of these predatory businesses? Patrick Erlandson, the Founder of Father-Con is a passionate leader in this fight for the prevention of exploitation. He has spoken at the United Nations in Vienna and around the country, bringing a painful perspective to a harsh reality, but also hope. He has found fathers play a critical role in producing either protection or the vulnerability that allows children to be exploited. His Mission is to bring a revival of the fundamental role of fatherhood to today's family unit.
