Dear Friends and ACLCL members,

August 1, 2007

Dr. Chang Shik Yang

It has been a joyful as well as an awesome task developing our theme for the issue, "The Road to Peace in the Middle East." As you know, achieving lasting peace in the world is among the fundamental goals of the ACLCL, and the lifelong mission of its founder, Rev. Sun Myung Moon.

His Strategy has been straightforward. First, peace begins with the transformation of individuals in their relationship with God. Second, peace has its foundation in the family, the school of love and morality, where basic virtues are learned. Third, peace emerges as people practice the ideal of true love by overcoming selfishness and learn to live for the sake of others. Fourth, divisive human barriers such as barriers of race, nationality, religion, language, or culture must be overcome. This is accomplished through the teaching, "love your enemy."

Everywhere we look today, we see bloodshed and suffering caused by religious conflicts. It is a difficult and dangerous time, but at its heart, religion has the power to lift humanity above narrow self-interest and petty struggles and as leaders we must proclaim an end to the era of bloodshed, and look toward a new time of resurrection and hope.

The ACLCL is today's powerful tool given to us to help build this new era. In considering these points, I encourage you to challenge conventional thinking, as saints and sages of the past have done.

May God bless you, your family, and all your efforts to realize a world of peace.

American Clergy Leadership Conference United Federation of Churches

WE ARE AN INTERDENOMINATIONAL CLERGY ORGANIZATION.

The American Clergy Leadership Conference (ACLC) was founded in May 2000, when 120 clergy from diverse denominations and faiths received an inspiration on a mountaintop in South Korea. We work and pray for unification of North and South Korea.

WE ARE EDUCATIONAL SEMINARS.

One of the primary missions of the ACLC is to sponsor and promote interfaith conferences. These gatherings inspire the participants to find renewed hope in working beyond denominational boundaries.

WE ARE WORLD TRAVELING MINISTRIES.

The ACLC is promoting "One Family Under God." We are all brothers and sisters who are practicing peace and harmony with Ambassadors for Peace.

WE ARE STRENGTHENING MARRIAGE AND FAMILY.

The ACLC is on the cutting edge of establishing the pastoral role in pre- and post-marital counseling.

WE ARE INVITING YOU.

Let us work together with your fellow pastors of all faiths to keep our family, faith, and community strong.

Middle East Peace Initiative

The ACLC is a founding organization of the Middle East Peace Initiative (MEPI) and continues to organize pilgrimages to the Holy Land to allow pastors to engage in real peacemaking.

Seminary Scholarship Plan

The ACLC believes in investing in its clergy through degree programs. Scholarships are available to qualified applicants. This is a great ACLC membership benefit ($21,000 in tuition).

The family is a school of love and the cornerstone of a healthy community.

ACLC Sponsored 10th Annual March Against Drugs and Violence Bringing a Positive Impact to the Billings Community.

Rev. Michael Yakawich, Co-Chairman of ACLC Montana

Along with the local police department, DUI Task Force, Tumbleweed runaway teen program, neighborhood task forces and , ACLC churches offered an unprecedented support for this program.

On Saturday, June 9th 2007 the 10th Annual March Against Drugs and Violence took place in Billings, Montana. Lead by the American Clergy Leadership Conference (ACLC) and many other community organizations, a very positive impact on the city took place. With over 375 participants of all ages participating, education, awareness and a united stand against drugs and violence took place.

Initiated ten years ago by Rev. Hilton McClendon, several youth, and I walked down the main street of Billings. Today, it is awesome to see hundreds of people turn out with a firm commitment and desire to address serious drugs that are ravaging our community. In fulfilling this successful event, there were nine months of preparation and commitment both of our ACLC members as well as many organizations. It also allowed for others to see the sincere dedication and commitment that ACLC has to the community. In fact, the award given to the march last year is now displayed proudly at US Senator Max Baucus office in Billings, MT. upon their request.

We are discovering that drugs and violence are real issues in our community. The vision of Rev. Moon, the founder of ACLC, is clear that we must roll up our sleeves and become "Peace Kingdom Police" in our community not only in word but in deed.

The guidance and support of Rev. Larry Krishnek, ACLC 1st Co-Chairman of District 10, is a major key in allowing the freedom and trust necessary for the local communities ability to work and witness in the capacity they are able and willing. We pray such evil drugs and the violence perpetrated that is destroying our families and community will be eliminated completely and that the Kingdom will come soon.

ACLC Divine Principle Workshop in Boston, MA (July 18-20)

American Clergy Leadership Conference and United Federation of Churches organized a 3-Day Advanced Divine Principle Workshop at Morning Garden located at Gloucester, Massachusetts on July 16-20, 2007.

Dr. Weston, Sr.

Rev. Dr. Willie Weston Sr., Pastor of Hope Evangelistic Ministry International, Chicago, IL reflected on this conference and said, "This conference was truly awesome." Dr. Weston also mentioned, "It was stressing the importance of being aware that Satan is attesting to cut off the relationship between God and mankind. Also, the conference contents made us aware that imperfection falls away like autumn leaves as our divinity grows." Rev. Levy Daugherty did a superb job presenting the Fall of Man. Rev. Daugherty took participants to another level. Rev. Bismark Bamfo was equal as powerful in his presentation of the Resurrection and The Last Days. Rev. David Reed took us deeper regarding God's restoration.

"This conference was empowering and contributed great clarity to many thoughts, conceptions, and truth," said Bishop Sharron G. White, Pastor of Crown Ministries Inc., Ellenwood, GA. Bishop White testified, "As we study: the purpose of creation, consequences of human fall, and the meaning of the last days; we found new truth through Rev.

Moon's vision by Jesus Christ. We received great revolution through each presentation of the Divine Principles. The knowledge received from these lectures equipped each participants." Also she emphasized, "I know Rev. Moon is the central figure whom God is using on this earth to bring the Nations together as one family under God."

Father Pedro Contreras

"I would like the next conference be held for five days. It was wonderful to study God's principles and to understand what He is doing throughout history. I wish everyone could have been there with us!"

Bishop Aaron Woods
Action for Christ, Milwaukee, WI

"I felt like we are moving into the new desires of God's master plan. We must change our desires to the desires of the "Word" so that we can walk upright and show the love of God."

Rev. Dr. Joseph Petty
In Time Like These Family Ministry, Detroit, MI

What participants said.

"In the meeting God gave me a revelation on believe in whom He has sent ... if you know what I mean. This was the first time I understood meeting Jesus in the cloud."

Bishop Andre Jackson
Carriage Hills Community Church, Richmond, CA

"This conference on Divine Principles was an enlightening experience. It was clear, precise, and very understandable."

Bishop Shirley W. Cotton
Pentecostal Church of God, Fairhaven, GA

"It was a learning experience that inspired me to do God's will. I suggest that all ministers should study the Divine Principles before attending the workshop."

Rev. Edward Young
Laurel Grove Baptist Church, Burke, VA

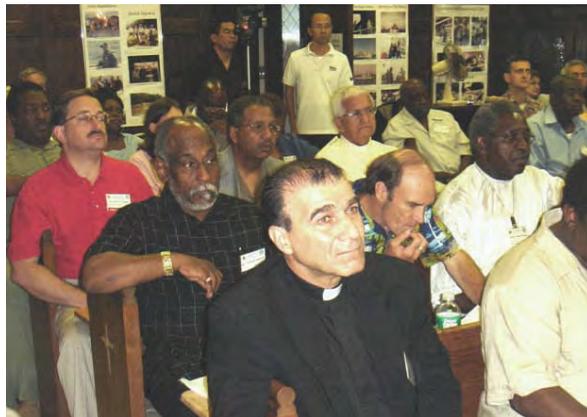

"Even though I have studied Divine Principle Book, I hope that we can have more opportunity for the next Divine Principle conference."

Rev. Nagi Yousef
First Arabic Baptist Church, Yonkers, NY

"If we are to let this good news reach the four corners of the universe, I say it is time to work. We all have gifts from God, and they were given to be used."

Rev. Andre Smith
Joshua Missionary Baptist, Chicago, IL

"This workshop reminded me of the experience of flying," said Bishop Joe Fox, ACLC Co-Convener and Pastor of Heaven Bound Ministry, Wisconsin. Bishop Fox described, "In order to get to a cruising altitude, you often have to go through turbulence. Our task in the ACLC is like that. It takes time and effort to get there, but when you are finally above the clouds, you can see clearly where you are going. I enjoyed staying by the sea in that beautiful place and studying together with so many pastors. I understand that I cannot teach everything I have learned all at once, but bit-by-bit I can introduce ideas and concepts to my peers and congregation and they too can come to understand."

The roadmaps of the twentieth century contained many holes and detours, observed Rt. Rev. Riah Abu El-Assal, former Anglican Bishop of Jerusalem. But, he asked, "Who gives whose land?"

The partitioning of the Holy Land, in my mind, is the root cause of the pain and suffering of both people who claim that land as their own land."

Participants offered their perspectives on the US role in the Middle East: "When America pro-notes justice it brings hope to the world, not when it promotes unfairness and hatred," said Imam Mohammad Ali Elahi, founder of the Islamic House of Wisdom in Detroit, Michigan. The Iranian native said, "We love the America of diversity and respect." He hopes to help dispel ignorance about his native Iran, which he described as a country of pluralism where churches and synagogues are operating freely.

Former US Congressman Rev. Walter Fauntroy gave several pieces of advice from his years of civil rights work with Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr.: "Tell the truth with love, and face reality with courage. Religious leaders should be headlights [on the road to peace], not tail lights. Be thermostats, who set the temperature, not thermometers, who merely measure it." He described Jews, Christians and Muslims as members of the "Abraham federation."

Former head of the US mission to Iraq, Ambassador Ed Peck said that nations and governments always act according to what they perceive to be in their best interest. Thus, he said, people working for peace should keep in mind that the road is long and they need the stamina to sustain their efforts: "You have to understand the size of the rock that you, like Sisyphus, are pushing up to the top of the mountain. The work is almost impossible, but we must keep trying."

I am very impressed with this effort and am honored to be associated with you."

"With the moral authority as spiritual leaders of every race, creed and color, we can build trust among those who distrust each other," said Rev.

"Tell the truth with love, and face reality with courage."

Rev. Walter Fauntroy

Fauntroy, quoting II Chronicles 7:14, which outlines a spiritual process culminating in a promise of God healing the land.

Former US Congressman Rev. Walter Fauntroy and Former head of the US mission to Iraq, Ambassador Edward Peck have a discussion.

"If you believe it, act on it," he said. "If you are praying, give feet to your prayers."

Dr. Chang Shik Yang, chairman of the American Clergy Leadership Conference (ACLC) opened with a call for people to embody the highest ideals of love, family and faith found in the world's religious traditions. He said "MEPI is building an atmosphere of trust and healing through an inter-religious body of men and women transcending boundaries and embracing the family of humankind."

2 Chronicles 7:14

14 if my people who are called by my name humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land.

The Middle East Peace Initiative (MEPI) is a global effort by 11,000 Ambassadors for Peace who come from 147 nations every other month to join hands with Jews, Christians and Muslims of the Holy Land to bring an end to violence.

Our Ambassadors for Peace are current and former heads of state, members of parliament, religious and NGO leaders, women and youth leaders who engage in dialogue in the Middle East and bring a powerful impact back to their parliaments so that each nation can contribute to peace.

ACLIC Churches Celebrate Parents' Day

Background of National Parents' Day

Many Americans are unaware that our nation has a new day of commemoration called Parents' Day. This is good news for America's parents and families.

In 1994 President Bill Clinton signed into law the resolution unanimously adopted by the U. S. Congress establishing the fourth Sunday of every July as Parents' Day, a perennial day of commemoration similar to Mother's Day and Father's Day. According to the Congressional Resolution, Parents' Day is established for "recognizing, uplifting, and supporting the role of parents in the rearing of children."

The establishment of Parents' Day affords a wonderful opportunity for communities, organizations and churches to honor exemplary parents and to encourage families everywhere to invest in our most precious resource – our children. Among the most popular of these activities has been the recognition of outstanding couples as "Parents of the Year" at the national, state, local and church level.

Why Parents' Day

In every culture and time period, the family has stood as the most fundamental human institution. Family is the starting point of life, the sustainer of well-being, and the school of love. A family begins with the joining together of man and woman, husband and wife, becoming father and mother – and parents. The most powerful of human bonds is the parent-child relationship.

Commitment to family has always been a core value. Tragically, however, what was often held as a common value, recognized as common sense, even understood as self-evident in the past, is sometimes not so today.

As our nation struggles with effects of family breakdown, youth violence and a host of other critical problems, more and more voices are calling for a re-examination of our priorities and fundamental values. Too often we have let other concerns take precedence over our responsibilities as parents. Yet, is there any more important calling than that of nurturing and raising a child?

Parents' Day provides an opportunity to recognize and promote parenting as a central vocation for our families and communities. More than just a time to celebrate, it is an occasion to make a statement about what is important in our society. It is a chance to create a positive tradition based on a core axiom – that the role of parents is crucial in the nurturing and development of children, and thus requires investment, focus, and commitment. It was a Hallelujah Saturday Morning, July 14, 2007, as more than 50 people gathered to celebrate the vital role parents play in raising up their children, and the important impact good parenting makes on the community at large. Women in Ministry

"So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him;
male and female created he them." Genesis 1:27

Twenty nine women gathered at the Kernersville Community Center on May 29th at 6:30 pm for food, fellowship and learning. The women came from Raleigh, Durham, Greensboro, Winston-Salem and Morrisville. They represented the Christian and Islamic traditions. They were black, white and oriental women. It was a beautiful rainbow of colors.

Everyone was in expectancy of the final highlight of the day. Rev. Ethel Hayes, Co-pastor of the Glory Land Missionary Baptist Church from Houston, Texas came forward with great heart of love to give her keynote address.

She spoke very powerfully about the role of women in God's providence. She talked about commitment, compassion and courage. We can learn from the Bible. Ruth is an example about Compassion.

Rev. Ethel Hayes (5/29/07)

Esther is an example of Courage. She said that we need a word from the Lord. Rev. Hayes spoke with a lot of heart. Everyone could appreciate what she had to say. The event was so wonderful. We concluded with announcements and a closing prayer. Many women expressed that they would like to come back for further meetings.

“Character Beings at Home”

Character Education Cable Show in Los Angeles

Great things have been happening in the media here in the entertainment capital of the world! With the full support and Blessing of the Southern California ACLC leader, Rev. Timothy Henning, Father Pedro Contreras, Mrs. Nancy Makowski and Rev. Carlos Torres. They have produced and aired Divine Principle and also Character Education cable TV shows in Spanish over the last year.

The most recent development has been to start producing English-language shows on character education. On May 24th two shows were taped, and will be distributed around the Southern California area. The community access cable networks here seem to be willing to air shows produced at another facility, as long as there is a resident of that city who will agree to sponsor the show. So we are hoping that supporters of character education for families throughout the Los Angeles area will take these shows to their local cable outlet and ask them to be shown. Supporters throughout the U.S. and the world are also invited to use these programs, if they will be of use to you.

The topic of our first English show was "The Need for Character Education".

The participants were:

1. Dale Garratt (Teacher) – Moderator
2. Father Pedro Contreras (Director, American Hispanic School) – Guest.
3. Mrs. Ines Harvey (Teacher for 44 years at the Unified LA School District, and Director of Evangelism at Citizens of Zion Missionary Baptist Church in Compton, CA) – Guest.
4. Nancy Makowski (Mother and Teacher) – Guest.
5. Don Makowski – Director and Post-production.

The topic of the second show was "Preparation for Marriage". The participants were:

1. Dale Garratt (Teacher) – Moderator
2. Luis Galdamez (Speaker, J.A.M. Sexual Abstinence Program) – Guest.
3. Mrs. Ines Harvey (Teacher for 44 years at the Unified LA School District, and Director of Evangelism at Citizens of Zion Missionary Baptist Church in Compton, CA) – Guest.
4. Nancy Makowski (Mother and Teacher) – Guest.
