Peace in Action. Powered by You.

When we talk about impact, numbers help tell the story—but behind every number is a woman strengthened, a bridge built, and a community changed.

Because of your support, WFWP USA continues to turn vision into action. Here's what peace in action looked like this year—by the numbers.

WE WANT TO SEE Thriving Tribes

Spaces where women connect, reflect, and grow together.

Across the country, HerTribe gatherings became lifelines of connection. It became a space where women showed up authentically, built trust, and grew together. From first-time participants to long-time members, more than a thousand women found encouragement, sisterhood, and purpose through these meetups.

Each gathering planted seeds of peace, strengthening women emotionally, spiritually, and socially so they could carry that impact into their families, workplaces, and communities.

Heart-centered leadership. Courageous stories. Reconciliation in action.

The Global Women's Peace Network (GWPN) connects women across the globe to pioneer heart-centered leadership rooted in spiritual values, service, and unity. Through 113 local initiatives in 2025 alone, GWPN created spaces where women could heal, lead, and collaborate, shifting paradigms and strengthening communities from the inside out.

Signature GWPN initiatives such as HerStory and Bridge of Peace brought this vision to life. Through the HerStory Awards and Podcast, we honored and amplified women whose leadership embodies resilience, compassion, and courage. These initiatives encourage others to step into their own potential to lead and serve. Meanwhile, Bridge of Peace ceremonies created sacred moments of reconciliation, uniting women across cultures, faiths, and histories to release division and recommit to peace.

Together, these initiatives—and many others—reflect a growing global movement of women choosing empathy over division and collaboration over conflict. Each gathering, story shared, and bridge crossed becomes a ripple of hope, extending peace into families, communities, and nations.

Help Us Carry This Work Forward

These numbers represent more than activities completed.

They reflect lives touched, leadership awakened, and peace carried into homes and communities around the world.

And this work continues—because of you.

Your donation ensures that these programs don't just continue, but grow. With your support, WFWP USA can expand community gatherings, honor more women leaders, deepen reconciliation efforts, and strengthen grassroots peace initiatives nationwide and globally.
