Vitaly Maksimov - January 3-5, 2020

From January 3 to 5, the Morning House training center in the village of Korolyovo, Belarus, hosted a seminar titled “My Values” for second-generation children of grades 5–7.

While experiencing lectures, discussions, quests and creative activities, the children could perceive their values more deeply, and learn about the values of the people around them.

During the quest, the seminar participants met six righteous people in the city of Uzda, helped some people in need, and congratulated 12 people on the New Year and Christmas. They made postcards with their own hands and congratulated elderly people in a nursing home.
