Starting Strong

As the first month of the year (and today being the lunar new year!), people are looking for ways to improve themselves to make the most out of the new year. In the spirit of starting strong, we gathered CARP leaders from around the country to join the Curriculum Intensive in Los Angeles to share CARP's Principles. It was great having a national level meeting with leaders from different chapters to foster a sense of national identity and reliance on each other. Read the full story here!

The National CARP team is at your service! The Curriculum Intensive brought together chapter leaders, local mentors, national staff, and representatives from the National Board of Directors for the weekend.

CARP students across the country are dedicated to improving themselves, day by day, and to create an environment that encourages improvement in their members.

We're excited to see how this semester goes!

CARP Retreats

Semester breaks are an ideal time for CARP chapters to invest into their members and plan for the next semester. This winter, we had retreats in almost every region. Read about them below:

Introducing our Alumni Series:

Meet Jeffrey Silerio, CARP Las Vegas Alumni. He is a role model for service and living for the sake of others, principles we practice and share in CARP.

CARP gives people principles worth living even after they graduate.

2018 Year in Review

We finished an amazing year! So much happened, so many victories, and all of you made it possible. Check out our full Year in Review below!

If we missed a major victory, let us know! We'd love to share it!
