

The Northeast Harmony Tour Day 7

Demian Dunkley
May 10, 2018

After around two hours of sleep, we woke up for a delicious breakfast that Hiromi san had prepared, praying and sharing together while enjoying an amazing view overlooking Lake Sprint. We toured the grounds around the Stephens' home, taking beautiful pictures by the lake. Before we left, we helped Jim out on his project to move a massive rock that he wants to use as a sign to put the number of their home on the side of the road. The guys and I worked together to lift the rock and to help him with his project. We then bid our farewells, thanked the Stephens for allowing us to attend every location we had planned on our tour, and looked forward to the next steps of our journey.