In a warm and inspiring atmosphere, the Albanian Women's Federation for World Peace celebrated World Poetry Day through a special event, where the art of words became a bridge connecting emotions, experiences, and human values. President of WFWP Albania, Mrs. Katerina Minolari, opened the meeting, emphasizing that we need to use the power of words to heal, inspire and build bridges, avoiding words, which damage and hurt others.

The event, gracefully moderated by Mrs. Flutura Maçi, offered participants a beautiful artistic experience, where Mrs. Kozeta Zavalni, Mrs. Violeta Mita, and Mrs. Diana Frashëri Omari shared about their creative work, bringing to life verses that touch the soul and inspire reflection.

One of the most meaningful moments of the day was the appointment of Mrs. Diana Frashëri Omari, Mrs. Burbuqe Spahiu, and Mrs. Brunilda Musai as Ambassadors for Peace - an acknowledgment that highlights their contribution and dedication in service to peace and the community.

Poetry became the voice of all through heartfelt recitations by Mrs. Angjelina Xhara, Mrs. Zhuljeta Grabocka, Mrs. Nezi Plaku Velaj, Mrs. Asja Mulgeci, Mrs. Elda Keçi, Mrs. Lola Shehi, Mrs. Brunilda Musai, Mrs. Yllka Merkuri, and Mrs. Manushaqe Toromani, creating a mosaic of emotions and thoughts that lingered long in memory.

Poetry once again proved to be a universal language that connects people beyond words, inspiring sensitivity and understanding, while the role of women was emphasized as essential in building and spreading the values of peace, culture, and harmony in society.
