

“Day of Happy Families” Festival

Moscow, Peace Embassy, Dmitry Samko, October 28, 2018

On October 28, the Day of Happy Families was celebrated at the Peace Embassy in Moscow. In a cozy and warm atmosphere, the holiday began with the song “Prayer” of the rock-band BI-2, performed by the Moscow choir under the direction of Marina Zhuchkova.

This prepared the audience for the presentation of Mr. Jack Corley on the theme “The Four Spheres of Heart,” which completely melted the hearts of the participants.

Then the Angels of Peace children’s performing group sang two beautiful songs in French and Russian.

Following this, Yuri Gavrilin, the FFWPU national leader for Russia, spoke about the importance of the family and the Marriage Blessing ceremonies.

The ceremony of Blessing, in which five new couples participated, filled the hall with joy and true love.

Among the families participating in the ceremony there were families of different nationalities, families of three generations and very young couples.

The program ended with a congratulatory song performed by Anya Bolotenkova, a photo session, a buffet table and a master class for children. Many thanks to the brothers and sisters who participated in the organization of this important event.
