On July 25 - 26, 2026, FFWPU Argentina hosted a two-day Winter Seminar for Children in Buenos Aires, under the theme "Growing from the Heart of God."

The program aimed to teach foundational values and emphasize the essential role of the family in the holistic development of children and youth. Supported by 6 dedicated staff members, 12 children gathered for an enriching, safe, and warm environment designed to foster spiritual and personal growth.

Key Highlights

Values-Based Learning: Interactive, age-appropriate lectures covered core values, recognizing individual gifts and talents from God, and understanding God's creation as an expression of His love.

Strengthening Identity: Workshops were designed to build the children's self-worth, encouraging them to live with kindness, service, and a strong sense of purpose.

Teamwork and Fellowship: A wide variety of games, recreational activities, and creative workshops allowed participants to put their values into practice while building lasting friendships.

A Joyful Conclusion

The seminar ended in an atmosphere of deep gratitude and joy. Through shared learning, fun, and fellowship, both participants and staff renewed their commitment to supporting the next generation as they continue "Growing from the Heart of God."
