

Grown Taro on the airfield aside

Report: K.Date / Translate: JG & MG

Mr. Nada and Mr. Tamotsu Nakamura were delayed on the journey to Leda because of heavy rains and spent overnight on the bus. They suffered a lot of mosquito bites during that time yet they managed to arrive safely in Leda on Dec. 3rd.

On the evening of Dec. 3rd, Mr. Nada and Mr. T. Nakamura left Olimpo and completed by boat the last leg of the journey to Leda. On arrival they were welcomed by Mr. Nakata, Mr. Yoshimura and Mr. Beniya.

After the dinner we had a genial meeting with Mr. Nada and Mr. T. Nakamura. We talked about the shrimp farm and other topics. Mr. Nakamura was involved in the fish business in Kodiak, Alaska for many years. His aim is to make a sales office in Asuncion to sell Leda products.

<Left> Mr. Okusako is giving a description of the projected shrimp farm in a drawing room at Sun Moon University in Korea.

<Right> To get clearer salt water they are doing deep well digging. Currently it is over 10 meters deep.

<Right> A happy Mr. Nada and Mr. T. Nakamura are surrounded by pigs in Pig Land.

A facelift for the hatchery was given with new coats of paint. Professor Magno is coming soon to start another round of incubation. The Test room on the next room is undergoing renovation.
