Victorious Life of Walter Haynes, Jr.

Walter Haynes, Jr. was born on March 28, 1953, in Washington, DC, the oldest son of ten children of the late Walter Haynes, Sr. and Hattie Haynes. He was raised in the nation's capital and attended District of Columbia public schools.

Growing up in a strong Baptist family, Walter gave his life to Jesus Christ at an early age. At the age of 20, he was introduced to the ministry of Rev. Sun Myung Moon by Donald Marshall and Davetta Morgan Holder, and joined the Unification Church on August 23, 1974, beginning 39 years of discipleship.

Walter lived as a model of servant leadership. A professional chef, he worked in food service in the Ginseng Tea House in Dupont Circle; the Deli-Sun in New York City; the Unification Theological Seminary in Barrytown, New York; the Tick Tock Bar & Grill, and The Washington Times' Cafeteria. He also pioneered an extremely successful beansprout business in Washington, DC during the 1980's.

Walter was blessed in marriage to Teresa Zavala on January 29, 2001 and became the proud stepfather to Heliot Perez, as well as grandparent to Kendra and Anakin Perez. To his own family, he was known as "Uncle Bam," beloved for his kindness, hospitality and wisdom always. During the last decade, he experienced a series of chronic health issues including loss of kidney function and the need for a transplant in 2007. Doctors and friends marveled at his cheerful and uncomplaining nature. Even when his pain was extreme, he bore it quietly and with great courage. Walter's love is the defining characteristic of his life. He was a kind and loving husband, a wise counselor to friends, and a loyal son to the spiritual parentage of Rev. and Mrs. Moon.
