Emaculate Mungye of Washington, DC also used online tools from the Youth Ministry website this month. A spiritual style quiz, prayer circle, and reading on God were all a part of this month's activities. Each activity gave the youth a different degree of inspiration.

Emaculate expressed what a positive experience it was for participants. "Some of them essentially poured their hearts out during our discussions and it made me realize how much they sometimes need a forum to let their hearts out, a forum we were able to provide with this activity."

It was a powerful and valuable event where the participants were able to gain some knowledge and get inspired. "I believe the kids were inspired enough to be comfortable to share some of their personal and family struggles or difficulties," said Emaculate. "The activities were of great value to the youth."
