

WFPW Italy, Demonstration for People of Congo, Rome

Elisabetta Nistri
June 30, 2017

A public demonstration was organized at Piazza Montecitorio, in front of the Parliament in Rome on the 30 June 2017, in order to raise awareness about the suffering situation of the people of Congo.

In many areas human abuse, rape and mass killings are used as a weapon of war. Mrs. Susanne Diku, President of the Association TAM TAM D'AFRIQUE and an Ambassador of Peace of the WFPW, invited Elisabetta Nistri, WFPW Italy President, to deliver a speech at this occasion. In her speech Elisabetta presented the purpose and the recent activities of the WFPW, and furthermore she gave a message of comfort to all the families that are suffering violence. She expressed also how much God Himself must be suffering seeing His children in despair, but that He cannot resolve all the problems in our behalf. She explained He shows us the way but it is our turn to unite with Him and follow Him. As a matter of fact, all nations still have their internal problems to resolve.

The solutions offered by the human mind are just relative. Only through a radical change realized together with God is it possible to realize a True Nation where its citizens can live in peace and harmony. The event was attended by leaders of Italian and African associations, government and religious leaders, as well as priests and nuns.

After her speech, Elisabetta received heartfelt thanks from the MC and from several religious leaders for the spiritual guidance.
