

CARP's first 2 day Divine Principle workshop

Michael Schroder

March 7, 2016

Hey everyone! The weekend before last we held our very first 2 day Divine Principle workshop. Over 20 young people attended to have a super fun time with people but also to understand the deeper truth of life through the Principle. The motto of this workshop was 'Reading Life Through the Principle'. It specifically focused on the application of the Principle and how we can use it to become happier more loving people in everything we do and in every relationship we foster.

One aspect of the workshop which was particularly enjoyable was the CARP night where we shared in teams about a genuine relationship that was precious to us. I really felt the barriers being broken down between us as we shared about our parents, brothers and sisters and friends and how they've shaped as individuals. It's amazing how insightful each other's experiences are and how touching these stories are to hear. It was a chance for me to reflect and ask Is my relationship parents where I want it to be? Am I being truly honest with the people closest to me? I was a really deep experience for me and one I wasn't expecting. We felt close that night, we felt like a family. It's amazing the kind of atmosphere one can create in the space of two days.

The motto for UK CARP is 'To inspire and empower students to become true role models by engaging them in the study and application of the Unification Principle' and I feel after that workshop, very inspired and very empowered to re-determine to change ourselves so that we can impact society positively!

We sincerely appreciate all the help from everyone who contributed to this workshop and all that attended.

It was a truly unforgettable experience and we hope to see you next time. Our next 2 day workshop is from the 15th - 17th April 2016.