On Wednesday, May 15th, four members of the High Noon team came to Oslo, Norway to give an evening seminar. We are very grateful that Andrew Love, David and Mitsue Wolfenburger, and Sancha Ogden could come to our nation despite how intense it made their schedule to be in a new country every day.

Andrew Love gave an insightful talk on living a high noon life and the effects of pornography on the individual, in the family, and in society. His entire talk was streamed live to our private Facebook group where several members who could not come in person watched. Afterwards, since everyone in the audience (except one) was already blessed, David and Mitsue Wolfenburger gave a talk on Heavenly Intimacy. Meanwhile, our single member had the opportunity to Speak personally with Sancha and ask her questions. At the end of the evening, there was a short Q&A session with everyone together. Many stayed after the program was finished to talk, ask questions, and enjoy the refreshments. 18 members attended live, while several more attended via Facebook.
