The term “jet lag” was coined in the 1960s, with the rise of commercial air travel, and is defined as the body’s struggle to catch up with rapid time zone changes.

It’s been 5 days since all of Next Gen Mission returned from Korea, and the writer of this newsletter is still going through some crazy jet lag. But onwards we go.

The mission year is slowly wrapping up, with a little over two months to go. But we’re not wrapping things up just yet. The missionaries have landed back in America and are moving forward to their next mission.

Senior Class Missionaries

The senior class missionaries have spent three months in Europe and haven’t touched American soil in a while. So when they came back, the senior class went on a road trip from California to Indiana.

Arriving at the Spiceland Youth Campus, the missionaries have many exciting projects awaiting them.

Junior Class Missionaries

Welcome to Mission 3: Comeback. Returning to the same communities, the junior class missionaries are continuing where they left off before Korea.

With the internal goal, “Place Heaven’s Will First,” the missionaries are slowly recognizing their role in providential history and upholding that position as they invest wholeheartedly in their respective communities.

“I might be a tree that is buffeted by the wind and rain and scorched by fire, but I would never be a tree that burns and dies. Even a branch that has been scorched will have new buds when the spring comes. If I continue on my way with humility and strong conviction, the day will surely come when the world will understand the value of what I do.”

-Sun Myung Moon

Thank you for supporting the newsletter thus far. We are grateful for your support in reading what the missionaries are up to.
