Ian Darbishire and Candace Robertson went to Dandenong Monday to meet Hussain from the Australian Multicultural Media Centre to discuss how they could help out with his work. He would like help with his Centre, where Hussain has a lot of young people that he is training to be involved in the media. It was an amazing day and hopefully we can help him. They also met with another Nepalese Peace Ambassador in the office next door! Dandenong is the centre of multiculturalism.
