Pastor Miyako's Weekly Message

Hello. This is my second letter.

Last week, on the 250th anniversary of American Independence, we went to see the fireworks at the Washington Monument for the first time. Since our family didn't know our way around at all, we are truly grateful to the Lindsey family for going with us. As expected for the 250th anniversary, the area was packed with people, and we couldn't actually enter the main venue. However, we were still able to watch the largest fireworks display in history from outside.

As we walked around, we saw people everywhere wearing USA shirts and carrying American flags, with choruses of "USA" echoing all around. It was a powerful glimpse of the strong patriotism in this country. Unfortunately, we could only hear President Trump's speech faintly through the microphones from a distance and couldn't see the stage, but seeing such an incredible fireworks display made me deeply grateful once again to God and True Parents for allowing us to come to America at such a meaningful time.

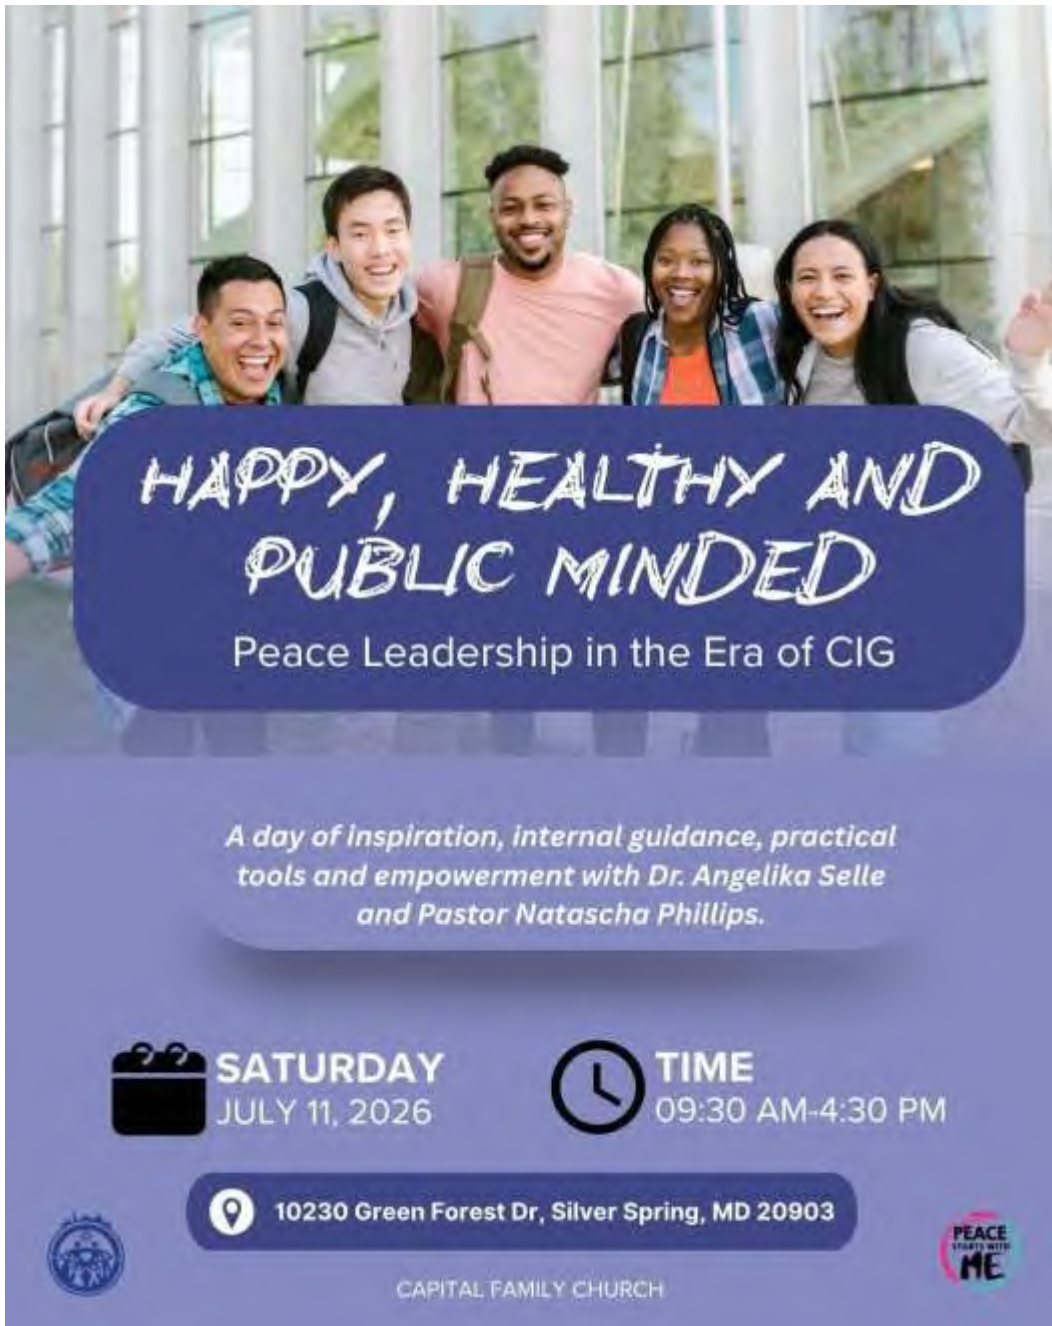

I am also grateful that two families quickly responded after reading my first letter, and I have arranged to visit them. I would like to continue visiting families while listening to your thoughts about the church and the providence.

What I would like to share with you this week is that the NextGen Ministry Team will be undergoing significant changes. I hope to announce it on Sunday, but I plan to inform all of you soon.

Please have a wonderful week ahead.
