

Mother's Difficult Situation

Really Mother is in a very difficult and very pitiable situation. What I mean is that she knew very well that she should not change the Family Pledge, the 4 Blessing Vows, the Cheon Seong Gyeong, the National Anthem of Cheon Il Guk and all the others. She knew deep inside that she should keep this intact and be the leader in protecting Father's legacy.

What can we do this time? How are we going to help our Mother in this difficult situation?

Some may say just do as she says. That may be easy to do if I did not see the disobedience those people around True Parents displayed even while Father was still alive.

Some may say, just ignore them, it is a family hierarchy problem. I tried this but it did not work. Father and Mother are already part of my whole being, they are my parents too. So I just cannot ignore what is happening to my Mother.

Some may say, ignore those ideas that come from the people surrounding Mother. Instead follow what Father proclaimed when he was still on earth. I think I will say yes to this suggestion. I think this is the easiest way for me to help Mother.

Yes, I better follow what Father said. No changes in Cheon Seong Gyeong, Family Pledge, Blessing Vows, National Anthem and all others.

I read a message of one brother, he asked,

"When you go to spirit world and in case meet Father there, and he ask you to sing the Cheon Il Guk National Anthem, will you sing the Blessing of Glory or the one suggested by those people around Mother?"

"Also if Father asked you to recite the Family Pledge what will you recite, the Family Pledge that he said should be eternal or are you going to recite the one suggested by those people around Mother?"

This is a big question for me since I realized that the changes are the majority decisions of those people around Mother. So what am I going to do?

I have decided to follow Father.

Just like what I did when I heard that the Lord of Second Advent is already here, I have decided to follow Father. Just like what I did when I almost lost Father in my life because one of his main leaders asked members to pray for somebody's death. I realized that that is not Father's idea or way, so I decided to continue to follow Father.

Now that those people around Mother are making their ideas prevail because the majority rules, I still will follow Father, not their suggestions that they infused or forced into Mother.

So I will do the following to help Mother;

1. I will recite the Family Pledge that Father himself made.
2. Before prayers, hoon dok hae or conditions, I will sing the Blessing of Glory, the National Anthem that Father designated himself.
3. And in Hoon dok hae, I will read the Cheon Seong Gyeong that Father bequeathed to us.

At least by doing this, I am sure that I am following Father and not those people surrounding Mother.

Brothers and Sisters you too may join me in making this condition. You may think Mother might get angry to us. Conversely, I am quite sure she will be happy internally. Why? Because she will understand that we are doing this out of our love for Father.

Father we love you forever. Ajuuu!!!
