

Black people, downtrodden people!

Sun Myung Moon

July 15, 2002

Morning Hoon Dok Hae at East Garden

Excerpt

Black people, downtrodden people!

After I became friends with such a person as Minister Farrakhan, if I had not cooperated with the Million Family March, it would have been total confusion.

Even when they are going through all sorts of indescribable hardships, is there anyone who turns to the Unification Church for help? Nobody wants that.

Now they [Minister Farrakhan's church] are receiving blessings. There are signs that they are. Simone of Cyrene was the one who carried Jesus' cross for him. He [Minister Farrakhan] is standing in that position. That time has come for black people. They cannot be beaten in the arena of physical strength, and they cannot be beaten in the arena of sports. And they are artistic. The grasshopper became friends with the ant, right? In the last days, they will be singing a happy song.

If you have no worries about food, what is there to be worried about? You can sing and dance and be happy. That's why black people cannot be beaten in the arts. And they can't be beaten in sports. Look at the case of Pele. Pele is a black man, but if he were white, he would be the undisputed king of soccer, wouldn't he?

What about boxing? Who is a famous boxer?

Mohammed what? [Mohammed Ali] Ali!

Heaven helped them to accomplish that. Also, the place where the fire of the spirit is still alive in America is not the white Christian churches. The white Christian churches are indifferent. In the black churches, they sing with spirit and passion. They use all their energy. If the neighborhood stops dancing, it is the black churches that use music to move them so it will at least look like they are dancing.

The time has come. Now I am marrying special people with black people, for example, like Archbishop Milingo -- I married him to a smart Korean woman. And what is the name of the Japanese woman who is the wife of Archbishop Stallings? [Sayomi] I did that because the time had come.

Mothers are born first, mothers. The word that both men and women think of when they are longing for love is "mother." That is why I married many Japanese women to men of all five races. I blessed many of them with men from Africa. Did I or didn't I? There were no Japanese women who wanted that. I wanted it, and they want to follow what I said. Because I know that the time would come when the world would be grateful that the 1st generation, 2nd generation and 3rd generation followed God's Will for the sake of the world, I followed my conviction and matched and blessed them that way.