Are you one of those people who prefers to hold a physical copy of your book or magazine in your hands rather than reading it online? If so, then we have good news! A print-out service is now available for the monthly True Peace magazine, which features True Parents' words, global reports, family testimonies, and more.

Take a look at the past few online issues of the True Peace magazine:
