Annual Gathering 2021 Postponed - New Date Coming Soon

Annual Gathering 2021 has been postponed following the recent news that lockdown easing in England has been delayed by four weeks. The Annual Gathering will still be going ahead, just at a later date which will be confirmed in the coming weeks.

On Monday (June 14th), senior ministers signed off on the decision to delay the lifting of all legal restrictions on social contact.

Monday June 21st was supposed to be the date of lockdown restrictions easing; however, the four-week delay means that lockdown easing will take place on July 19th.

From June 21st, the majority of social restrictions will remain in place, with only a few restrictions related to weddings and care home residents being lifted.

This has meant that the Annual Gathering festival, originally planned for Saturday July 17th 2021, will be postponed to later date.

Annual Gathering 2021 will no longer take place on Saturday July 17th 2021; please keep an eye out for a new date which will be announced in the coming weeks.
