

FFWPU UK: School of Love Empowers Parents to Redefine The Talk with God-Centred Values

Michael Balcomb
February 12, 2025

Amelia L.

Amelia L. shares her inspiring journey with School of Love, helping parents embrace God's vision for love, sex, and parenting through open, meaningful conversations.

In the middle of February 2024, I started to work for School of Love. I didn't have any experience to work from, just simply my love for family and being a mom. I dived into topics that used to make me squirm, like talking about sex, pornography, and the countless questions that come along with that. Since then, taking on this mission has truly blessed myself and my family. I recognized the importance of our role as parents to support our children in learning about all things to do with sex, especially so they can learn God's original plan. Now I'm excited to have these conversations with my kids, grateful for their questions, and so happy to share this culture with other parents.

I learned that the discomfort, that squirminess, is what I have inherited and accumulated from countless generations. This, however, was not True Parents' culture. True Father spoke in detail about sexuality and how God put so much love and energy in our sexual organs. This was the culture I needed to strive for. That's what God wants me to pass on to my kids.

I realized if I change my attitude towards sexuality, this is a game changer for my kids. I started to bring it up more often. We talked about how the world painfully misuses sex so much, but that doesn't reflect what God's plans are. So, we got into what are God's plans for sex? God invented it to create intimacy, love, connection and lineage. We started discussing what are God-centered types of love, and what is selfish. We talked about things in this world we must watch out for, like pornography, as it hinders God's vision for each of our sexuality on so many levels.

The earlier you start, the better. When we speak to our kids earlier, we can normalize these conversations, before our child builds their impressions from peers, playground talk, Hollywood and social media.

School of Love has become a very inspiring journey for me. The podcast gives me the chance to connect with likeminded people, experts and activists that we can all learn from. I love learning more and being able to share with other parents, building a more positive culture around sexuality that our children can profit from.

2024 was a year of building School of Love up again. This year in 2025, I hope to continue to build upon what was developed, expanding our online community, collaborating with others, extending more help and opportunities through webinars and online meet-ups. However I look forward to taking it to the next level by meeting with people in person, continuing this conversation and sharing our hearts from parent to parent! Early summer there will be a High Noon Summit, and I invite all parents to join to be a part of School of Love! See you there.

Amelia L.

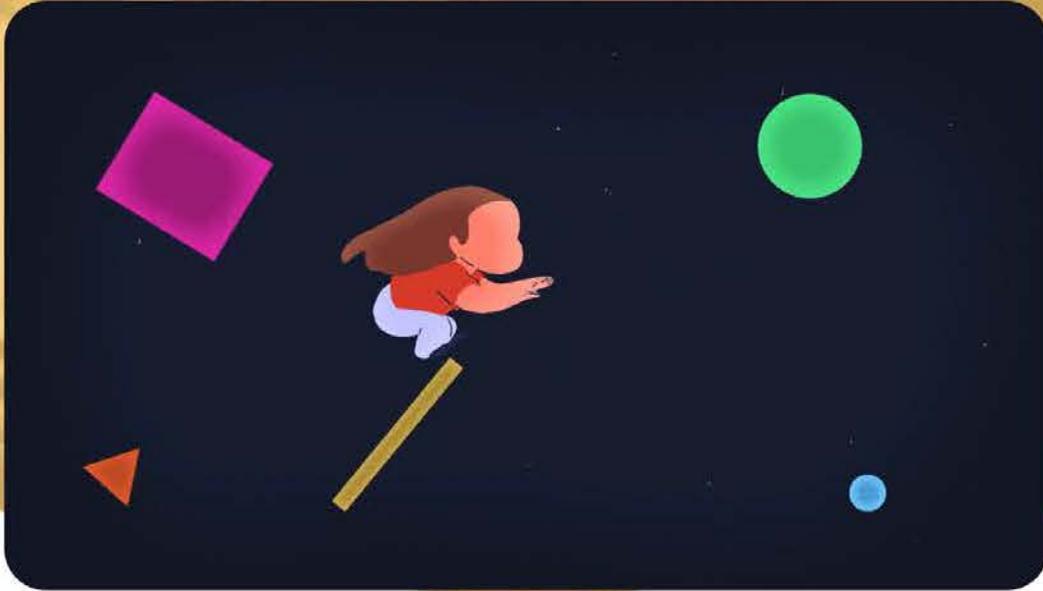

amelia@schooloflove.org
School of Love Director

More information on School of Love can be found on the website: schooloflove.org/

Family is the school of love.

Click for sound

Free Daily Parent-Child Challenge

SIGN UP

Subscribe

Curriculum

Join community

Why We're Here

Family is the place to learn about love. We want to support you in being your child's go-to person to learn about love and sexuality. Through our content we hope parents will gain awareness of the importance of their role in their child's learning about sexuality, tools to help you through any challenges, and community with other like-minded parents so we can

MORE INFO

Click for sound

Podcast

PARENTING WITH ACCOUNTABILITY

With BENJY UYAMA

Parenting with Accountability with Benj...

PROTECT YOUNG EYES

With CHRIS MCKENNA

Protect Young Eyes with Chris McKenna

ROUND UP OF 2024

With AMELIA

Round up of 2024 with Amelia

PARENTING WITH HONESTY

With JUSTIN OKAMOTO

Parenting with Honesty with Justin Okamoto

SAFE CONVERSATIONS

With MYRNA LAPRES

Safe Conversations with Myrna Lapres

PROCESSING MY TRAUMA AS A PARENT

With PHILLIP SCHANKER

Processing My Trauma As a Parent with Phillip...

VIEW ALL

Resources for conversations with your kids about sex

Podcast

Welcome to our podcast! Join us as we explore fascinating topics, share stories, and engage with inspiring guests.

LEARN MORE

Curriculum

Our curriculum blends interactive lessons and practical skills to prepare learners for real-world challenges.

LEARN MORE

Resources

Unlock the full potential of your team with our comprehensive resource library—tools, guides, and insights to drive success.

LEARN MORE

Videos

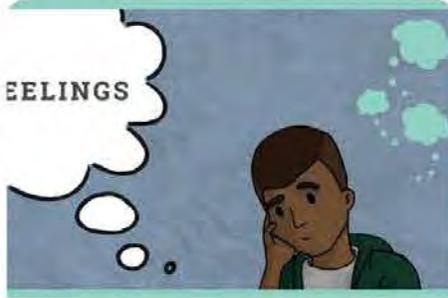

Discover our video library, featuring expert-led tutorials, step-by-step guides, and engaging content for all learning levels.

LEARN MORE

Videos

New Structure of School of Love High Noon

You and your feelings

Sexual Integrity

"Sexual" + "integrity" = ? Watch to learn about the meaning of sexual integrity in our lives.

Candid Conversation

Here's a snapshot into the kinds of things the School of Love team talks about. This candid conversation is a perfect example of why we do what we do—because we're parents...

Protect Your Body

How to protect your body as a child of God. A good watch for parents and youth.

God as Your Compass

Making my best life through finding God. Through prayer, meditation, and study we can uncover a bright future.

Join the family

Name

Email

SUBSCRIBE

SCHOOL OF LOVE

Your child's learning begins in the home.
You are your child's first teacher and we are here to help you.

amelia@schooloflove.org

Podcast | Resources | Videos | About | Contact | Login

© 2024 School of love - All rights reserved