Witnessing for this summer's 430 couple Blessing in Las Vegas is off to a great start! Representatives of six of the newly formed witnessing trinities met for what turned out to be an exciting and uplifting reflection, testimony and discussion night. The first of what will be weekly "430 Sharing Nights" was marked by heartfelt reports of trinity bonding, outreach successes and planned follow-up programs. In this way, all who attended are beginning to feel greater trust in one another and confidence in our future success.

In response to requests for educational and fellowship opportunities for new contacts, brief announcements about upcoming events to be held by local WFWP, UPF, FEEF AND CARP organizations were given and ongoing Divine Principle Educational programs and online resources were also offered. After a final lively discussion---including suggestions and criticism-- about recent efforts to create a guest friendly worship service, the meeting ended with a strong prayer for the success of the new trinities and for victory in all of our witnessing efforts.
